Oct. 2015!

Thanks once again to Cristina Conciatori for teaching us so many new apps and websites to use!

WORKSHOPS:

Once again, we are aiming to offer 15 hours of PD this year. Our snow date is March 8th! If you have any workshops you are interested in seeing or PRESENTING, please e-mail us at powerfuleducators@hotmail.com. We are NOT currently listed on My Learning Plan.

NOVEMBER WORKSHOP:

Dancing Your Way to Program Security: This workshop will detail how one elementary Spanish teacher uses her other passion- music and movement – to create a world language, and school-wide, community. Jenny will highlight the school-wide World Dance unit, which was well received by administrators, fellow teachers, and students. A second unit on ballet and its French terminology will also be shown. Jenny will include where to find music and dance information, how to “clean up” lyrics, and of course, a demonstration of various dance styles and songs that she has used with her students. Jenny will also showcase various technological tools and resources that she uses in lessons for these units. Participants should dress comfortably. RSVP by 11/10!

LOTE Technology Focus Session - A Hands On Showcase for Fluency and Language Mastery

Enjoy time browsing a hands on, virtual model showroom for LOTE faculty looking for ways to effectively use various technology apps, platforms, websites and resources! This session will be designed as an online activity museum where participants will be guided through various exhibits, showcasing technology used to support speaking/writing/assessment practices in the LOTE curriculum. Examples will be assembled based on actual ideas and lessons from teachers in the region including, but not limited to: -Websites and apps for producing and assessing speech/audio -use of QR codes for displaying student learning - use of desktop teleconferencing tools (i.e. Google Hangouts) to facilitate student-to-student speaking and listening opportunities -web tools and apps for content mastery and formative assessment -how teachers use audience response systems to create a high energy environment for assessing vocabulary, usage, syntax, and context clues. With: Leslie Accardo.
