

language programs. These children are learning so much as well but not getting the chance to learn a new language. Some schools can't afford these programs, sadly. I hope in the future many schools will be able to offer their students a chance to learn a new language.

Having a world language program has taught me so much and been so cool. I can't wait to learn more.