

Hola. Ni Hao. Bonjour. These are only some examples of the languages that students are taught in this day and age. Now at least one of these languages could help students get into a better college to further enrich themselves in knowledge. It could also help the child get a job because they speak a different language. Knowing a language is very important if you wanted to travel internationally. Since the students have learned this second language, they can go anywhere people speak those languages and would be able to understand the people around them. Learning a different language helps kids learn about cultures other than their own. It challenges them to try and experience new things. Studying world languages is very important for students to learn.

Knowing a second language could help them get jobs in the future. They have learned how to speak a language and now they can use it when talking to coworkers and customers if necessary. This helps the student increase their opportunities to pursue a career that they love. "Twenty-five thousand jobs are expected to open up in the years to come for interpreters (who focus on spoken language) and translators", says CNN Money. This shows that the people that know a second language may have the upper hand when it comes to finding a job. It could be easier to get a job if you know more than one language.

When the student is traveling internationally it helps that they know the native language. Knowing the language would help them meet new people. In case of an emergency they can talk to other people and ask for help, and knowing a different language would help encourage them to see more of the world. Meeting new people is exciting and fun. The students can meet new people and it helps them learn more about the language. If the student travels and gets in trouble they will know how to speak that language and get to safety. When you are going to a different country you would try to learn what language that country speaks and try to learn that language. But the students already know how to speak the language and that can encourage them to travel the world and experience new things.

When a student learns a language it is also a great opportunity to learn about the history of the culture. There is so much that one student could learn about the culture behind a language. They can learn about the history of the place, the art, the food, and the holidays. It's good for people to step outside your comfort zone. Learning a new language can help you learn more about others people customs instead of only knowing about just own. It can help the student have a new look on life and that can affect everything that they do.

Studying world languages is very important for students. When student first learn a language it's hard. They get frustrated and want to give up. But they persevere. Then they soon start to in brace the language and love it. Learning a new language can help you in so many ways as well. It can help you enrich your learning and it could help you with your company. Learning a language is important for students to learn because it teaches them that it's ok to be different. Learning a new language is great for not only the students who are learning it, but it is also great for the people around them too. It's hard for students to pick up a new language. But the when a student starts to understand the language, it's the best feeling in the world. You really get the feeling of what it's like to be in other country without even visiting there. You start to understand how other people live. It upsetting to think that not all kids are able to have the opportunity we have to learn a world language. Students take for granted that we are lucky to have the chance to learn a new language. All of you student out there we need to start using the power of knowledge to help recreate the world in ways were never seen. Put your power to use and people all over the world will now listen. Who knows; maybe one day the world will be changed with the power of words.

Erin Garone
Pierre Van Cortlandt Middle School
Grade 8
Teacher: Sally Barnes